However, in most provinces and territories, pharmacists have now been instructed by P/T health ministries or professional bodies to give a maximum of 30 days supply in order to help prevent drug shortages. The decision to provide a longer refill will be made by the individual dispensing pharmacist. The NIHB Program has asked pharmacists to consider the unique living circumstances of some NIHB clients. Access to a pharmacy may be affected by weather (e.g. winter road access, delayed flights to remote communities) as well as the need to travel long distances, among other factors. However, dispensing quantity/frequency is ultimately up to the pharmacist's judgement, and in light of directives they have received from provincial health ministries or professional bodies. To ensure flexibility, NIHB will reimburse pharmacies for early refills as well as full dispensing fees when smaller supplies of chronic medications are provided.

Therefore, NIHB has extended coverage of unregistered infants up to 24 months of age until further notice (extended from 18 months, previously). Infants up to 12 months of age may already access most types of NIHB benefits under the identification number of their parent or guardian who is NIHB eligible. After their first birthday, a child needs his or her own status or N number to process NIHB benefits.
